Three Central PA Construction Trade Associations Honor Award Winners

The American Subcontractors Association of Central Pennsylvania (ASACP), a not-for-profit trade association serving subcontractors, specialty contractors and suppliers in 31 counties throughout the Central and Northeastern Pennsylvania and Lehigh Valley regions. ASA is the ONLY organization dedicated exclusively to the business issues affecting subcontractors, who perform more than 85% of the work on all commercial construction, in both the public and private sectors. “Better Construction through Fair Construction”—The American Subcontractors Association promotes and protects the rights and interests of subcontractors and suppliers by building strength in community through education, legislation, networking and professional growth.

The Pennsylvania Builders Exchange (PBX) is a trade association that has been serving the commercial construction industry since 1886. PBX is a full-service online construction news service supplying the most accurate information about construction opportunities from the design phase through contract awards. Their website includes continuously updated project news, bid documents, addenda, reprographic services, online take-off tools, sophisticated searching, tracking and notification features.

The Keystone Contractors Association (KCA) is a Pennsylvania statewide commercial construction trade association based in Lemoyne, PA. KCA Builds Pennsylvania! The KCA contractor is dedicated to improving the construction industry daily by focusing on safety, education & training, labor relations, community service, career development, and government relations.

On Thursday, February 20th, the three associations held their Evening of Accolades at the Crown Plaza in Downtown Harrisburg, recognizing the preeminent individuals, companies and projects of Central Pennsylvania Commercial Construction.
